tween the Microbes and the Cardinals being about as uninteresting as anything seen here this season.

The game was a procession, with Chicago so far in front that Selee had his men pulled to a walk at the end of the game. The score was II to 4, and it looked as if the Microbes could have made almost as many more runs had they not desired to get in out of the disagreeable atmosphere.

O'NEILL, HIT HARD AND OFTEN.
They hit Pitcher M. O'Neill about as often as they wished and they hit him hard, too. "Tornado Jake" Weimer opposed O'Neill and the Cardinals got but seven hits off him. The Donovan men did not play in the field as they should, either. They were guilty of seven misplays and when all things are considered it is not a wonder that the score was so one-sided as it was. The St. Louis players began well. They made two runs in the first two innings, but the Microbes came along in the third and bit off four, and after that there was nothing to the game.

A hit, a base on balls and an error gave the Cardinals their first run. The very same combination allowed them another in the second act. Then the Microbes began to wallop O'Neill. Chance doubled and Jones and Tinker singled. The twirler gave bases on balls to Weimer and Slagle, and Farrell made an error. These gave the four runs.

The fourth was a blank for the White

The fourth was a blank for the White Sox, but in the fifth Harley, Siggle, Chance and Casey all hit safely, these four drives netting three runs. Three more were made in the sixth when Harley, Siggle, Jones and Kling drove the horsehide out for safe ones. At the beginning of the sixth the Cardi-nals got their third run. Brain singled and Barclay tripled and these were enough for one run.

As if in a revengeful spirit, the Microbes made four in the seventh; rather, four runs were given to them by the visitors, who were clearly among the fleecy. Four errors were made in this inning by Donovan's men. Besides there were a base on bails, a single and a couple of steals. Tinker, Casey, Kling and Weimer scored. Yesterday's Results.

Cleveland 4. Chicago 1.

Enough rain fell in the vicinity of Grand and Sullivan avenues yesterday to cause's postponement of the proposed game . between the Browns and Detroit "Tigers." Out in center field and back of first base the water formed miniature lakes.

When "Wild Bill" Donovan arrived at the grounds and saw the lake back of Heldrick's garden he bent a pin, which he fastened to some twine. His amazed comrades in breathless astonishment awaited developments.
Into the clubhouse went "the great distamer" and when he emerged he had the twine and bent pin attached to one of Bur-kett's hats. With the improvised fishing outfit "Wild William" proceeded to have a outfit "Wild William" proceeded to nave a little fishing party all by his lonely. His solitary pleasure was doomed to short life, however, for his teammates began to toss pieces of boards, clods of mud and other missiles at the "lone fisherman".

William gamely withstood the assaults made upon him by his own teammates, but a withering blast of sarcasm from "Smiling Billy" Reidy put an end to the fishing expedition.

Emerging from the clubhouse the St.
Louis William asked the "Detroit William" in a stentorian voice what he was fishing for.

"For fish, ye fresh youngster, what flye fink I was fishing for? Elephants" "No;
for that game you lost yesterday," retorted McAleer's new "red-hot member," as he brushed the ashes off a "two-bits" cigar and waitzed through the gate on his way to

This "hot one" from Reidy caused Donovan to forsake the fishing expedition and climb into the bus.

BROWNS DEPART. The St. Louis and Detroit teams departed for Detroit last night, where they will resume the argument left off last Saturday at Sportsman's Park. McAleer's pets have been showing good form of late, and it is to be hoped they will keep up the good work. They will play the "Tigers" two more games at Detroit, after which they will begin their Eastern invasion.

They seem to have the "Tigers" faded. Not one of the Detroit pitchers has been able to mystify the locals. Four straight games have already been annexed from Barrow's pets, and at least an even break is expected of the locals when they tie up to-day and to-morrow with the "Tigers."

After the Detroit series the Browns will begin their Eastern invasion. They will play the "Senators" a series of three games neglinning Thursday, and from there will commence a tour of the East, playing three-day stands at New York, Boston and Philadelphia, after which they will return to St. Louis, arriving here Friday, June 19.

At present the Browns are in a cripoied condition. Hemphill is still suffering from a lame ankle, and this will keen him out of the fray for at least a week. Wallace has been sick for the last several days, but is improving right along, and the game liftle "Scot" will be at his old place to-day.

During Hemphill's enforced retirement Billy Friel will play in right field. Friel is The St. Louis and Detroit teams departed

"Scot" will be at his old place to-day.

During Hemphill's enforced retirement.
Billy Friel will play in right field. Friet is a good outfielder and a fair sticker, and Hemphill will not be missed the few days he is out of the game.

With their pitchers going, St. Louis should win at least half of its games on this trip. Sudhoff, Slever, Reidy and Donathue are all pitching up to their form. Powell has pitched a high-class article of baseball, but has failed to win.

"Jack." however, is bound to get going soon, and then the Browns will have one of the speedlest pitching staffs in the American League. It is up to McAleer's pets-to bag half their games on the Eastern trips, and the fans will not tolerate less than an even break.

DONOVAN HAS HOPES.

DONOVAN HAS HOPES. Patsy Donovan's band of "Hopes" will arrive from Chicago this morning. If the grounds will permit of a game-the Cardinals will try conclusions with the "Phile lies" this afternoon.

poor showing on their Eastern trip, but at least one gleam of cossolation can be gathered from their disastrous showing. Of late they have been playing a better game, and may be looked for.
By defeating the "Phillies" in the coming series the Cardinais will have a chance to get out of the hole they are now in a consideration should also be given to the Donovan "Hopes." Nearly every member of the team has been in poor agodition since the opening game. George Bardiay has not fully recovered from the severe tumble he took over the ropes in the first ante-season series.

Smoot's absence has also cost the team many games. Williams has been in poor condition for some time, and Farrell has not been playing up to his former strength, Nichols has also been in poor condition, and Donovan has been compelled to play a pitcher on the first sack.

The pitching staff, of whom great things were expected early in the season, looks to be a bloomer. Barring Dunleavy, who has only had one trial, not another man on the team is pitching first-class ball. McFarland is doing better than the rest, but his work is none too good.

The hard fortune that has kent the team ing series the Cardinals will have a chance is doing better than the rest, but his work is none too good.

The hard fortune that has kept the ream company so long cannot stay with it forever, and as the season is yet young the Cardinals, by buckling down to some real good, hard labor, may climb up to a more commanding position in the pennant race.

There is also an old adage that says a bad beginning is much better than a bad ending. Acting on this principle, the Cardinals should not take their poor showing too seriously. It is the end that counts.

FORECAST OF TOLIVY'S GAME

FORECAST OF TO-DAY'S GAME. "" McFariand probably will be Donovan's pitching selection for to-day's game, "Mack" has been pitching better than any of his teammates, and as he will have the Philles teammates, and as he will have the Philles to pitch against he should have little trouble in making a good showing.

The old line-up, with which the Cardinals did their best work early in the season, will play to-day.

Farrell is back at second. Smoot is at center, Barclay back in left field, and the only regular now out of the game is Nichols, the Cardinals' first sacker.
